

Section 7.0: Management Information Reports

7.0 MANAGEMENT INFORMATION REPORTS

CSENet 2000 provides management information (M/I) reports to states upon request. The reports provide information on transaction traffic by state and for the CSENet user community as a whole, as well as Exchange Agreements by state. These reports are available to states as formatted printable reports (HTML and Word) or delimited file output. The delimited file output can be used for input to another system. Reports may be requested by contacting a CSENet technical representative. Some data is also available on the OCSE Web site.

7.1 State Transaction Reports

The State Transaction Type Report shown in Figure 7-1 presents high-level summary data of transactions sent and received by an individual state. This report is usually a monthly report; however, it may be generated for a date range specified by the requesting state. This report contains the number of transactions by Function code and the total number of transactions for the period specified.

7.2 Exchange Agreement Report

The CSENet 2000 State-to-State Enabled Communications Report provides states with information concerning their Exchange Agreements with other states. States may request this report either for a single state or for all exchange partners. This report, depicted in Figure 7-3, lists the requesting state's FIPS code and name, the partner state's FIPS code and name, the Functions they have agreed to exchange (Y for yes and N for no), the date of the last change, and the total exchange agreements currently enabled. This report along with other exchange agreement reports may be found on the IRG Web site at <http://ocse3.acf.hhs.gov/ext/irg/sps/selectastate.cfm>.

7.3 Future Reports

The next stage of CSENet M/I reports will evolve during the re-evaluation of the business needs for CSENet 2000. This business evaluation will provide the opportunity to develop reports that states may use to determine their engineering and management needs. States are encouraged to contact their technical representatives with comments and suggestions.
